From the USDA regarding labeling:

“...Canned foods are safe indefinitely as long as they are not exposed to freezing temperatures, or temperatures above 90 °F (32.2° C). If the cans look ok, then they are safe to use. Discard cans that are dented, rusted, or swollen. High-acid canned foods (tomatoes, fruits) will keep their best quality for 12 to 18 months; low-acid canned foods (meats, vegetables) for 2 to 5 years.”

No Federal Partner Agency (FDA, USDA, etc...) requires that food products be labeled with an expiration date. The only exception to this is marketed baby food. All other labeling systems are at the discretion of the manufacturer. As long as an item is stored correctly and remains undamaged, it will be suitable and safe for consumption.

Record Keeping and Reporting

As a Partner Agency (Partner Agency) of the South Michigan Food Bank, you must keep and report accurate data regarding the numbers and types of people served at your Partner Agency each month. If your Partner Agency operates more than one type of program (i.e. food pantry and soup kitchen or FFI and After School Packs) separate records for each program must be kept. These records must be submitted to the Food Bank no later than the 5th of the following month. For example, reports for January are due no later than the 5th of February. The Food Bank uses this data in several ways; when applying for (and designating) grant funds, reporting to Feeding America, and in the Annual Report, to name a few. Without your cooperation in this regard, the Food Bank is unable to meet the qualifications required to remain your Food Bank. The required paperwork for agencies who receive TEFAP/USDA products is available on our website, www.foodbankofscm.org, and will be emailed to all agencies when released. All information asked of clients is self-declared and no verification or proof is required.

*Please note that no Partner Agency can ask for or require a client's social security number in order to receive food***

The following verbiage must also be included on any required sign in form and easily available for clients to see, read, and understand.
